W. C. T. U. Meeting.

At the meeting of the W. C. T. U. at Grace church Friday afternoon a successful program was presented upon the subject of non-alcoholic medication. Excellent music was interspersed and Miss Bessie Pitcher won the thanks of all paesent by her fine solo. An instructive and carefully prepared paper upon the subject in hand was read by Mrs. Dr. Sheffield. The value of this paper was enhanced by the fact that Mrs. Sheffield had obtained her knowledge of the topic under discussion from her husband, who is a successful non-alcoholic physician. It is gratifying to know that Dr. Sheffield does not stand alone in this respect among our very able corps of city physicians. It is not necessary therefore to deny ourselves the luxury of sickness for fear of being chugged with medicine so called that is abhorent to the moral sense of many and a fruitful source of inebriety.

Arrangements were made for sending a box of supplies to the Temperance Hospital in Chicago in the near future. The next meeting will be held the first Friday in May under the leadership of Mrs. Divan. Subject—Purity in Life and Literature, and will be in the Methodist church.

A Queer Combination.

It is fruquently remarked that there are strange bedfellows in politics, but no one ever witnessed a more remarkable illustration of the trite saying than that which was experienced in our city on Saturday during the election contest for a Board of Education in District one of town twenty-one. It is, we may safely say very rare when the A. P. A. Society join with Democrats, and the latter do not as a general thing affiliate with that order to any great extent, but on Saturday it was well understood that members of the Democracy here worked shoulder to shoulder with members of the A. P. A. order in the defeat of Mr. Maloney. But it was not unnatural when we take into considertion factional contentions which exist within party lines: the ambitious and selfish motives which are liable to rule politicians. The school election fight grew out of a struggle for the spoils of office which has been on for some time and will culminate in a few months when there is to be a Postmaster appointed for Dixon. There were not many Democratic votes cast against Mr. Maloney, but it appears that there were enough to defeat him. There are two or three candidates and Mr. Maloney is one of them and the faction of the party who do not wish him to have it, for certain personal reasons natural to individuals who would like an office for their own personal benefit, took advantage of this election to clip his wings. It was a lively fight and Mr. Maloney was defeated by a majority of only five votes, which is not much of a triumph after all the fuss. THE TELEGRAPH was not to any great extent interested in that Democratic fight, considering it none of its funeral, and is quite well satisfied that an excellent school board will continue to manage Dixon's educational affairs. We speak of it more as a curious bit of local history than a desire to excite the wrangle.

Miss Iva Miller spent Easter with her parents at Leaf River.

Miss Ida Hinman, of Maquoketa, Ia., is with us again after a short absence.

Miss Mable Sharp and Mr. Josephen, of Princeton, Ill., are new students in the shorthand department.

F. E. Coleman, of Chicago, a former student, was shaking hands with old friends and schoolmates last week.

Mr. Ravnaas, of Creston, Ill., Mr. Aykens, of Forreston, Ill., spent Sunday with parents and friends at home.

Miss Mary Whalen, who has completed the shorthand course, has accepted a position as stenographer with a firm in Polo.

The Excelsior Literary Society met in regular session Saturday evening and elected a new quota of officers.

Our stenographers were kept very busy last week doing word for different firms of the city.

A merry company of D. B. Utes rowed up the pituresque Rock River Saturday, past the new Steinmann Institue. They pronounce the RockRiver a veritable Rhine and are very much charmed with the beauties of nature surrounding the new school.

When in the course of human events it becomes practicable for a young man to build a house, plant potatoes, and raise onions, no one should for a moment question into the cause nor the effect.

The class in free-hand drawing and ornamental penmanship about to be organized by Prof. Coppins, promises to be full of interest and art.

—Jack Keefe gave an interesting athletic entertainment at the opera house Saturday night, and there was a good sized audience. The bout between Henry Coffey and Frank Welch; the wrestling contest between Payne and Rosenberg, Albin Northburg's bag punching exhibition, the round with gloves between Keefe and his pupil Kane, and the event of the evening between LeRoy Payne and Jack Keefe were all cheered.

—Viola is represented here today by Justice of the Peace and Town Treasurer E. Weiner; Highway Commissioners John Griese, H. Ewalt and F. O'Rorke; Town Clerk John Piper and the last named gentleman's son, Wm. Piper.

—Having their wings clipped politically by the Populists of South Carolina, it is now said that both ex-Senators M. C. Butler and Wade Hampton, will probably join the Republican party.

—Black bass to a large number were caught yesterday in a trap made by rocks, near the mill race. The fish law is being broken continually and our officials should stop such lawlessness.

—At the school election in District No 1, Saturday there were 516 ballots cast, of which F. A. Truman received 507 for President of the Board of Education. For members of the Board, Dr. G. W. I. Brown received 471 votes; C. G. Smith 268 votes, and M. Maloney 263 votes; Messrs. Brown and Smith being chosen as the new members of the Board.

—It has been rumored that Mr. Maloney will contest the vote for school director; but there is no foundation in the rumor. Mr. Maloney has full confidence in the ability and integrity of the election board, and is satisfied that the count was correctly given. He felicitates himself that in the contest in which he was peculiarly handicapped, he received within three ballots of half the votes cast.

—Through an extended editorial the Clinton Age wonders if there "Is not some way that work can be provided for the unemployed" of that city. Though the editor of the Age is a Democratic calamity howler of long experience in Iowa we regret to say that this word of warning is not of that sort, for he adds that "It is useless to deny the fact that a serious condition confronts the great mass of laborers of Clinton." Well, neighbor, THE TELEGRAPH could give you some real wholsome advice in that behalf, but it fears that you would not receive it in the proper spirit.

School Election.

There were but 516 votes cast at the South Side school election Saturday, instead of 536, as stated Saturday evening; a skip of twenty numbers having been made on the tally list. However, this is vastly more than is usually cast on the occasion of a school election. It is very apparent, however, that the increased vote was not so much occasioned by an increased interest in school matters as by other considerations. The appointment of the annual school election at a different time from the election of other officers exhibits an evident, and we think a wise intention to disassociate school affairs entirely from party politics. The qualifications for school directors should be of a business rather than of a political character. A broad and comprehensive view of educational matters, combined with conservative business principles should characterise the candidate of the people's choice. While doubtless all the candidates in the late election would come up to the required standard in this respect, we deprecate as dangerous to the best interest of the people at large the introduction of a mixed element of politics and religion. If no man should be chosen to have charge of our school affairs on account of his political party predilections, certainly that choice should not be based on a man's denominational preferences. If we do not want a Republican board, nor a Democratic board, nor a Populist board, we as certianly do not desire a Methodist board, nor a Catholic board, nor a Baptist board. We should be broad enough to sink all other differences in the search for the best material for an Educational Board. If men of all political faiths and men of all religious denominations and of noreligious denomination be found on the board, so much the better; but when matters of mingled political and religious significance enter into the canvas, the highest educational interest will b> almost certainly overlooked.

DOWN ON THE G. A. R.

Col. Waring, Gotham's Street Cleaning Commissioner.

HIS INTERVIEW WITH DR. GIBBS.

Expresses Himself Freely Regarding the Law Requiring the Employment of Old Soldiers and Says the Grand Army is a Lot of "Pension Bummers"—General Sickles' Criticism of the Colonel—The Scheme to Settle Veterans in Georgia.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Colonel George E. Waring, the commissioner of street cleaning, has become involved in a bitter quarrel with a Grand Army veteran, and incidentally has brought the wrath of the entire organization on his head. In a conversation with Dr. John Wilson Gibbs, formerly of the health department and commander of the E. D. Morgan Grand Army post, the matter of employing veterans in his department came up. Colonel Waring became excited, and in a report of the conversation is said to have called the G. A. R. veterans a "lot of drunken bums." Dr. Gibbs was exceedingly angry and threatened to call the colonel publicly to account. Colonel Waring says he did not call the veterans drunken bums, but admits in a card that he did say he regarded "the G. A. R. as a lot of pension bummers," which will be pretty nearly as bad for him so far as the vets are concerned.

The Interview with Dr. Gibbs.

In his card the colonel says that Gibbs called on him, told him, that he (Gibbs) had had a bill passed by the legislature compelling the employment of Union veterans, and then and there made "application for a $1,200 place, and he demanded his appointment. * * * Dr. Gibbs said that he was a captain of cavalry and that he took John Morgan. The official certificate of veteranship on which he bases his application for a position shows that he was discharged from the service in January, 1866, as a sergeant of infantry and that he had entered as an enlisted man in April, 1865." The colonel then said to Gibbs that such legislation was an injury to veterans; he (the colonel) never appointed a veteran without telling him he did so with regret because of the difficulty of getting rid of him should he prove unsatisfactory.

He told Gibbs he (the colonel) was not a Grand Army man and would not be. The colonel then closes as follows: "To avoid the necessity for recurring to this subject, I may as well say that my statement concerning the Grand Army of the Republic was deliberately made; that organization has, in my judgment, sold itself for cash to the claim agents of Washington. Because of its nefarious action the workingmen of this country are now paying annually $100,000,000 more in pensions than they ought to be paying."

Comments of Gen. Sickles.

General Daniel E. Sickles was seen at his home at 23 Fifth avenue. He expressed himself as follows: "Colonel Waring ought to be ashamed of himself for using such language. It is a shame that such a creature should hold office in New York. Although he is called a colonel, his language would indicate that he has never been a soldier. At any rate, he does not seem to have any of the instincts of a brave soldier. There is not anything in the street cleaning department or anywhere else too good for the men he slanders. The policy he spits upon is part of the laws of the United States and of the state of New York. He has taken an oath to support those laws and to administer his department in accordance with them. Let him do so and shut his mouth."

VETERANS SHOULD BE CAREFUL.

Warning Regarding the Proposed Settlement of Old Soldiers in Georgia.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 22.—A telegram from Baltimore says: "Ex-Governor Northen, who is at the head of the Georgia bureau of immigration, telegraphs The Manufacturers' Record, of this city, that he has secured a site for a settlement of 14,000 veterans of the late war and their families in southern Georgia. This colony has been organized by P. H Fitzgerald and others, of Indianapolis, and will comprise old soldiers from various sections. It is called the Soldiers' Colony club and embraces farmers, mechanics, and men in the various professions. A large proportion of the people will locate on small farms in the territory selected, while the balance will found a new city."

At the recent encampment of the Georgia Grand Army a statement was adopted in reference to the immigration of old soldiers to that state, which says that having heard that large numbers of old soldiers are contemplating going to Georgia to find homes the Georgia G. A. R. deems it a duty to call attention to certain facts, which are, in brief, that there are large tracts of land in Georgia which are held under fraudulent grants; that the traffic in these fraudulent titles and the efforts to unload them upon innocent parties has been so great and widespread that Secretary of State Cook, of Georgia, has felt it his duty to issue a circular calling special attention to these frauds. It is urged that those contemplating going to Georgia for homes read this circular carefully, and a copy of it is made part of the statement. Old soldiers are informed, however, that there is a hearty welcome to all who go to Georgia.

The statement emphasizes the possible dangers comrades may incur in becoming freeholders of the state of Georgia, and assures the veterans that there is desirable land in Georgia sufficient in quantity to furnish a great army of old soldiers with good farms, the titles of which are perfect. Mr. Fitzgerald said that this circular was the work of an agent through whom the sale was not made. He said the purchase was subject to a good and sufficient title which is yet subject to the approval of attorneys specially selected to pass on it.

Wisconsin Legislature Adjourns.

MADISON, April 22.—In accordance with the resolution concurred in by the two houses the Wisconsin legislature went out of existence Saturday noon. The aggregate of the appropriations by the legislature is a little in excess of $1,400,000, but out of this sum nearly $800,000 is for the support of the various charitable and penal institutions for the ensuing two years. Among the most important laws passed was that establishing a board of arbitration for the purpose of settling disputes between employers and employes and to prevent labor disturbances.

MORTON FOR A SINGLE STANDARD.

Doesn't Believe the Price of the Precious Metals Can Be Fixed.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Secretary Morton in an interview on the silver question said: "I do not believe that an international congress can establish permanently a commercial ratio between gold and silver any more than it can establish a permanent commercial ratio between rye and wheat. But if an international conference can fix the price in gold or silver it can also fix the price of wheat or of any other commodity.

"My own judgment is that we must sooner or later declare that the United States of America recognizes gold as the best and least fluctuating measure of value and medium of exchange which the commerce of civilization has thus far utilized. It is barely possible the financial fallacies of the Populists may temporarily secure a majority of the voters of the United States. Should such a catastrophe overtake the country the people must learn by experience what they should have learned by diligent study and reason.

"The time for straddlers has passed. Those who are for a sound currency on a gold basis ought to have the courage to say so and abide by the results of their declaration. * * * I have no hesitation in declaring myself utterly opposed to all the free coinage fallacies. The president's critics, however, ask what 'sound money' is? An ordinary man of business may answer that question.

"'Sound money' is that sort of currency which has the most universal and least fluctuating purchasing power in the markets of all countries. That money is the 'soundest' for which throughout the commerce of the civilized world there is the most universal demand. And that universal demand is always based upon the universal and unfluctuating purchasing power of that money."

TAKES MORTON TO TASK.

Kansas City Live Stock Exchange Sends a Telegram to the Secretary.

KANSAS CITY, April 22.—At a meeting of the members of the Kansas City Live Stock exchange the action of Secretary Morton in regard to the recent advance in the price of meats was up for discussion. At its conclusion Secretary R. P. Woodbury was directed through the board of directors to send Secretary Morton the following telegram: "We, the members of the Kansas City Live Stock exchange, have noticed with profound regret the newspaper agitation about the cost of live stock and the unwarranted and untrue statements made. "Alleged conversations with you of a proposed investigation have been the basis of a series of newspaper articles which have had the effect of causing the market for live stock to be unwarrantably agitated. We can only attribute this and its consequent serious loss to the direct results of reports alleged to originate from your department concerning investigations you propose to make. Prices of live stock have decreased correspondingly with the consumption of beef, and we therefore respectively protest against the widespread agitation for which your department seems responsible and respectfully suggest that investigation be made quickly and without further harmful agitation. We court a full and thorough investigation of all interests connected with the live stock market."

JOHN L. DOES A BRAVE DEED.

Burns His Hands Badly in Saving a Woman from Death by Fire.

BOSTON, April 22.—Ex-Champion John L. Sullivan has distinguished himself as a life saver. As John was leaving his boarding house on Dover street he heard a woman scream in the rear of the house. He ran down the stairway and saw at once there was a fire in the kitchen and that Mrs. Margaret Donnelly, the cook, was in danger of being burned to death, her clothing having been ignited by blazing fat on the stove.

He quickly wrapped a big mat around the woman and succeeded in extinguishing the fire. She was badly burned, but the chances are favorable for her recovery. Sullivan's hands were burned in several places and he was obliged to call on a doctor, but the wounds are not serious.

Representative Hitt Desperately Ill.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The condition of Representative Hitt, of Illinois, is practically unchanged. His physician is in constant attendance, and last night a consultation was held over him by two Washington physicians and a prominent specialist from Baltimore. He is desperately ill, but there is still hope of his recovery, and a fatal termination is not thought imminent. The primary trouble was an aggravated case of grip, but this has now developed other serious complications. The illness has now lasted six weeks with frequent fluctuations.

Combine of Iowa Coal Mines.

OTTUMWA, April 22.—The "Mystic coal field" at Mystic, this state, has been organized. This is the largest organization for the mining and marketing of coal in Iowa, and perhaps in the west. In it are consolidated fifteen companies, operating twenty-three mines at eight different towns, with an output of over 1,000,000 tons of coal per year. It was organized for the purpose of keeping up the price of coal and for economy in operation.

Driven to Suicide by a Newspaper.

ST. LOUIS, April 22.—A special to the Republic from El Paso, Tex., says: K. Lyons, recently elected justice of the peace, has committed suicide. He was driven to this by newspaper censures. He sent a letter to his son in which he swears "So help me God as a Royal Arch mason" that the newspaper charges are false.

The Blairstown Terror Captured.

VINTON, Ia., April 22.—James Cox, who shot Marshal Gerhart, of Blairstown, was captured at Marengo and was brought to this city by Sheriff Metcalf and lodged in jail. Cox claims that the marshal shot first.

Explosion at a Lightning Factory.

WIFE OF A BRITON.

Marriage of Miss Mary Leiter at Washington.

SOCIETY AFFAIR OF THE SEASON.

Mrs. Cleveland a Guest at the Ceremony, as Well as a Large Number of the Foreign Diplomats and National Officials—The Sacred Rite Takes Place in Historic St. Johns, with Bishop Talbot Officiating—Bride and Groom Described.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—At 11:30 o'clock this morning the ceremony that made Mary Leiter the wife of George Nathaniel Curzon was said in old St. John's Episcopal church. The church was crowded with friends, of whom there were so many that probably some were disappointed in not getting the cards that insured admittance to the ceremony. The service was a full choral wedding one by the choristers of St. John's, comprising about forty voices. The musical programme was as follows: Preludo, "Epithalamium," from "Romeo and Juliet;" processional anthem, "O Perfection," by Barnby; "Elsa's Dream," Wagner; bridal chorus, "Faithful and True," Wagner; after the benediction, "Hallelujah Chorus," Handel, and recessional anthem, "To Thee, O Father, Throned on High," Hadyn. It was just 11:30 when the handsome couple had taken their places before the altar and Bishop Talbot began the service.

Something About the Bride.

Miss Mary Leiter is a handsome young woman, whose style of beauty is such that her presence in any social gathering instinctively draws attention to her charms. She has a face full of character, expressive eyes, but to be seen at her best she must be smiling. Her usual expression is rather too serious for one on whom all the delightful things in life have been so freely lavished.

Miss Leiter is a good linguist, sings delightfully and plays well, and in going to England to live knows all the good points in her own country, for she has traveled over pretty much all of it—even way up to Alaska. She has inherited the love of country which is an especial trait in her mother's disposition and which led to the latter's compiling a few years ago a most interesting work on the generals of the Revolutionary war, which is sold for the benefit of the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association.

Curzon a Man with a Name.

One thing about Mr. Curzon is that he has a name that he himself has made. His parliamentary reputation added to that he has gained as an authority on Asian politics and other questions of great importance in Great Britain, is of the highest. He has made a very favorable impression on the people who have been fortunate enough to meet him. He is a most amiable young gentleman of fine appearance, with the polish of a thorough man of the world. He is easy in manners, a ready conversationalist and remarkably well informed on affairs in general. He has been a great traveler and a close student, and having been a member of parliament for several years, he enjoys the personal acquaintance of the foremost men of his country. At the death of his father Mr. Curzon will have the rank and the title of Lord Scarsdale and Miss Leiter will be a titled lady in the very highest rank of English nobility.

People of Note in Attendance.

The wedding was one of the most brilliant social events the national capital has ever seen. Among the guests were Mrs. Cleveland, who is an intimate friend of the bride; the entire cabinet circle and many of the foreign ambassadors and ministers stationed here. Governor Morton, of New York, accompanied by his family, also came to Washington for the occasion. Large parties of guests from Boston, New York, Chicago and elsewhere, including Bishop and Mrs. Potter, and Bishop and Mrs. Coxe, of New York; Robert Lincoln, of Chicago, and Mrs. Frederick Vanderbilt, of New York, were present.

Probably Not a Fortune Hunter.

Mr. Curzon is a man of very moderate means, which has given occasion to considerable ill-natured comment, and he has been styled a "fortune hunter." Such, however, appears not to be the case, as he will in time inherit a very considerable estate, which will be ample to support an establishment befitting his rank. The Leiter family is reticent as to the amount of Miss Curzon's "dot." Mr. and Mrs. Curzon will sail on the Majestic shortly after the ceremony, traveling in Europe and then going to the groom's London house, Carleton Terrace, while parliament continues in session, afterward settling at his country place Kedleston Halls, Derbyshire. It is not yet certain whether they will reach London in time for the queen's last drawing-room, which closes the London season.

NON-UNION MEN DRIVEN AWAY.

One of Them Given the Alternative of Drowning or Quitting Work.

POMEROY, O., April 22.—The mining troubles at Minersville have broken out with increased intensity. Thirteen of the twenty-three non-union men driven away two weeks ago by the strikers returned to work last week. One hundred strikers armed with clubs rallied to drive them away. All but one escaped to hiding places. He is a stranger and is known as No. 11, and was nearly drowned in a watering trough. He was given five minutes to quit or be drowned in the river. He left on a run. The strikers patrolled the streets nearly all night in search of non-union workers.

The "Strangler" No Longer Invincible.

CHICAGO, April 22.—In the wrestling match, catch-as-catch-can, at the Second regiment armory, for $1,000, the gate receipts and the championship of the world, "Farmer" Burns, after an interesting struggle threw Evan Lewis, "the strangler," three times out of five and won. Lewis won the first and third falls and Burns the second, fourth and fifth. Lewis was the stronger of the two, but Burns was most agile and as slippery as an eel. The "strangler" could not hold him in any position.

Mrs. Parnell in a Critical Condition.

BORDENTOWN, April 22.—Mrs. Parnell passed a good night and seemed brighter in the morning, but as the day advanced she grew weaker. It is doubtful whether she will survive the shock of the assault. Nothing has yet developed to throw any light upon the case, although the detective are still at work.

KOHLSAAT BUYS TWO NEWSPAPERS.

Another Change in the Journals that James W. Scott Founded.

CHICAGO, April 22.—H. H. Kohlsaat, who for a time held the controlling interest in the Inter-Ocean, but sold out because he had ideas that did not "gee" with those of others in the concern, has since been watching an opportunity to get back into the ranks of journalism and his success marks another "lightning change" in the life of the Herald, founded by the late James W. Scott. The change is greater than that by which the paper became the Times-Herald, for it involves a change of politics from Democratic to Republican in the national issue of protection.

Mr. Kohlsaat has purchased $710,000 of the $1,000,000 in stock of the paper and one of the first indications of Republican control was the resignation of the principal political writer, who could not write protection articles against his own convictions. James W. Scott owned $200,000 in the Times-Herald and besides the money for this Mrs. Scott will get an annuity of $10,000 for ten years if she lives that long. She will also hold a small interet in the paper. It should be said that the sale includes The Evening Post also. Mr. Hawley, the managing editor of the Times-Herald, retains his stock, but of course will not control the paper's policy.

Outside of the issue of protection the paper will vigorously oppose free silver coinage at any ratio by this nation alone. In local affairs it will be independent and hold personal fitness as the only qualification for municipal office.

Gov. Altgeld on the Change.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., April 22.—Governor Altgeld in an interview last evening, replying to a question whether the change of ownership and policy of the Chicago Times-Herald will be likely to injure the silver cause, said he did not think such would be the case. The governor thought the silver movement was daily becoming more powerful, even with nearly all the great papers against it. The governor thinks there will be another paper started in Chicago, but was not going into journalism himself.

PRAYED FOR WET WEATHER,

And Got a Regular Torrent and a Disaster Almost Simultaneously.

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 22.—All of Texas has needed rain, so Dwight Moody called upon his audience of 8,000 Christians to pray fervently that the floodgates might be opened. This was at 8 p. m. yesterday. Last night when the Tabernacle was crowded by people from Fort Worth and surrounding cities Moody announced that word had come from several points that rain had fallen. A few minutes later the storm burst on Fort Worth and torrents of rain fell. Then Moody gave thanks to God and called upon the congregation to join in singing "Coronation," and "All Hail, the Power of Jesus' Name."

The song had surged forth from 10,000 voices, when a cracking noise was heard and then the roof sank and the rafters gave way, and the heavy timbers and boards covered with tar and gravel came down on a portion of the congregation. There was a panic. Scores upon scores of women fainted; some men lost their heads and piled pell-mell over those near them. Moody grasped the situation, and moving to the middle of the platform lifted both hands to heaven, moving his arms slowly to and fro. His attitude and coolness stopped the panic and men began to go to work to rescue those in danger.

The worst casualties are: J. V. Ingram, internal injuries, will die; Will J. Parsley, seriously hurt; Mrs. Mary Murphy, cut on head and left arm; Miss Scrason, cut on face and right arm; Miss Lulu Haley, cut on head; J. W. Manchester, cut on shoulder and left arm; Mrs. Morton Logan, cut on shoulder. Some forty others were slightly hurt.

GERMAN VIEW OF THE CASE.

What a Berlin Newspaper Has to Say of the Nicaragua Affair.

BERLIN, April 22.—The dispute between Great Britain and Nicaragua is being watched here, and the opinion of those competent to pronounce an opinion upon the matter is decidedly against allowing Nicaragua to get off too cheaply. Moreover, the idea of intervention upon the part of the United States is not received here with enthusiasm. The Vossische Zeitung, commenting on the situation, says:

"England represents not only British but European interests. The Central American republics have been guilty of repeated acts of lawlessness against foreigners, and they deserve to be taught a salutary lesson. If the United States claims to extend the application of the Monroe doctrine to these unruly neighbors, they must also undertake to bear the responsibility of the fulfillment of their international obligations."

Lynch Stood Off with Revolvers.

FREDERICK, Md., April 22.—Mrs. Thos. Butts, a highly respected farmer's wife at Broad Run, fifteen miles from Frederick, was brutally assaulted by Frank Winterchief, an 18-year-old negro. He failed in his purpose, but in the struggle Mrs. Butts was seriously hurt. The negro fled to the mountains, but was followed and caught by Peter Hemp and David Majaha. On their return from the mountain with the negro the captors were escorted by a mob who demanded the surrender of the man that they might take him to the woods and hang him. Hemp and Majaha refused to give him up at the point of their revolvers and brought Winterchief safely to Frederick.

An Enmity Settled with a Gun.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., April 22.—Jerry N. Friel shot and killed J. N. Shotts on a farm five miles east of here last evening. Friel, who claims that the shooting was in self-defense, came to this city and gave himself up to the officers. Friel says Shott struck him with a club. Both men were farmers and had been enemies for some time.

Sheriff Mullin Defies the Justice.

PENDER, Neb., April 22.—Sheriff Mullin was convicted by the Indian justice for assaulting the reservation police and held in $100. He refused to give it and defied the court, even refusing to promise to appear before the federal grand jury. The court finally released him without formality to avoid further trouble.

Horse Beef Market in Oregon.

PENDLETON, Or., April 22.—J. M. Switzler has sold 5,000 horses to a Portland syndicate. The animals are to be slaughtered at Portland, Switzler says, and the meat packed and all parts of the carcass utilized.

MONROE DOCTRINE.

Senator Hill Not a Believer in Late Interpretations.

ITS MEANING MUCH MISCONSTRUED

And Its Author Given a Reputation He Doesn't Deserve and Did Not Desire—The Much-Quoted Doctrine Never Affirmed by Congress and Its Features Rejected When Put in a Treaty—Some Interesting Remarks.

ALBANY, April 22.—An interview with Senator Hill on the Venezuelan question was given out last night. Senator Hill was asked whether experts in public law think the Monroe doctrine has given to the United States a special right to intervene between Great Britain and Venezuela in the pending boundary dispute, or assume a protectorate over Spanish-America? He answered that he had never thought so.

"But does not the Monroe doctrine declare that the United States cannot permit any Spanish-American republic on this continent to be oppressed or its destiny controlled by a European state?"

Does Not Change the Laws of Nations.

"That would not have referred," the senator said, "to a legitimate dispute such as we or any other government might have tomorrow with a Spanish-American state. It protested against using such a controversy with an intention to increase European political dominion on this hemisphere or control the destiny of an American state or transfer a colony like Cuba to a new European owner, but did not change what was then the law of nations."

"Was not the Monroe declaration to congress a guarantee of our intervention, forcible, if need be, in behalf of each Spanish-American republic which, in our opinion, was oppressed by a European state?"

Declined to Ratify It in a Treaty.

"I think not. Not otherwise certainly than if Chili shall oppress Peru or Mexico shall be unreasonable in dealing with Guatemala. Congress has never affirmed the Monroe doctrine. In 1868 President Johnson projected a treaty with Colombia, which was signed, embodying the Monroe doctrine, but neither the Colombian senate, nor our own senate ratified it. You remember that when two years after President Monroe made his declaration a congress was convened by Bolivia at Panama for the consideration and discussion of an American alliance to enforce the declaration there was substantial concurrence of opinion between President John Quincy Adams, who had formulated the Monroe doctrine, and the members of the senate and house—especially the Democrats, including Senator Van Buren, of New York—participating in a long debate, that the declaration did not pledge the United States to forever thereafter prevent a European power from interfering with the independence or form of government of a Central American State."

Monroe Not Properly Understood.

"Do you think that President Monroe has the reputation of having given his name to a rule or condition by the United States for which neither he nor Adams contended?"

"Precisely that," the senator answered. "The 'doctrine' cannot be formulated in a treaty or a statute, but its moral influence has been, is, and ought to be very great. Discrimination should, however, be made between legitimate disputes and illegitimate purposes behind the disputes, such as imposing by force European political control over the destiny of a reluctant Spanish-American state. President Lincoln must have felt that some thirty years ago."

New Feature in the Durrant Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—The only new thing in the Durrant case is the development of the fact that the police have a shoe found in the study of Rev. J. G. Gibson, pastor of Emanuel church, where Marion Williams and Miss Lamont were murdered. The shoe has blood spots on the sole and is the property of Gibson. There have been hints that Gibson is the guilty man and those who made them are confirmed in their views by the find, but the police have settled on Durrant and explain it by saying that probably he knew where the shoes were and put them on before he killed the girl.

Mayor and City Dads in Jail.

PITTSBURG, April 22.—A special to The Post from Marion, O., states that Mayor Nichols and Councilmen Thomas Roberts and A. Busard are in jail for contempt of court. They are all Republicans. AN IRISHMAN AND A JEW.

A Business Partnership That Has Been Entirely Satisfactory.

There is an up town business firm one of the members of which is an Irishman and the other a Jew. The Irishman was born in Cork and the Jew in Cracow. They have been in partnership for several years, during which they have built up a flourishing business. The Irishman is beardless; the Jew has a flowing black beard. The Irishman is of the type of Rory O'Moore; the Jew is of the type of Moses.

They are a mutual admiration pair, and each has a solid respect for the other. The Irishman is a rare wit; the Jew is solemn as the Talmud. The Irishman has a fine Corkonian brogue; the native speech of the Jew is the Polish jargon, which he mixes with his English.

The Irishman looks after the firm's finances; the Jew attends to the buying and selling. The Irishman is a strict Catholic and goes to church on Sunday; the Jew is rigorously orthodox and goes to synagogue on Saturday.

The Irishman is "pudgy;" the Jew is lean. They agreed never to talk upon religion, about which they disagree; but, as the one is a bimetallic Democrat and the other a Democratic monometallist, they can always find a subject for friendly argument.

The Irishman is older than the Jew, but the Jew is taller than the Irishman. Both the Irishman and the Jew have large families, and the children of both attend the same school. Most of the offspring of the Irishman are girls, and most of those of the Jew are boys.

The favorite tipple of the Irishman is ale, and that of the Jew is wine. The Irishman is quick tempered; the Jew is slow to wrath. These two business partners, one of them from Cork and the other from Cracow, have carried on their establishment successfully for years in this city, have divided the profits evenly every quarter, have never had a quarrel that lasted more than a minute and have made enough money to raise them above the cares of life. Surely they deserve to grow rich.—New York Sun.

Paper Cables Under Water.

For many purposes paper, next to wire, is an excellent insulation, and it has of late come extensively into use in telephonic and other cables. But it is not generally known that such an insulation has been tried under water. This is, however, the fact, and one such cable is now doing excellent work at the bottom of the Hudson river at New York, right in the track of all the domestic and seabound traffic. Of course the cable is lead covered and otherwise protected, but it depends for its insulation, electrically, on thin spirals of paper around each stranded interior wire. The laying of such a cable in such a place might, a few years ago, have been considered little short of suicidal, but experience has demonstrated the perfect practicability of the scheme. In considering the laying of such cables in such situations the fact is important that a 100 pair, paper insulated, lead covered cable can be bought for 50 cents a foot, while the rubber insulated cable would probably cost not less than $3 per foot, while, figured on the basis of equal electrical effectiveness, the price would be 50 or 100 to 1 in favor of the paper cable, other considerations left out.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

WORSE THAN DEATH.

System of Refined Torture That Kills In Three Years.

Though the death penalty was practically abolished in Belgium over 30 years ago, the punishment of those convicted of capital crimes is so awful that none has yet been able to endure it more than three years. Another curious thing is that little Belgium until recently had two public executioners, while but one was sufficient for her vaster neighbor, France—Deibler, otherwise known as "M. de Paris." The king of the Belgians recently ordered the retirement on a pension of 1837 francs of the "executor of high works" (as he is euphoniously termed), who was stationed at Liege. The executioner at Brussels still holds his place.

The duties of public executioner in Belgium are singular, but not arduous. The courts still continue to sentence malefactors to death, but the guillotine has been replaced by a scaffold on which is posted a copy of the sentence. Much ceremony is observed in affixing this document. A troop of gendarmes, with their imposing helmets plumed with horsehair, is drawn up about the place of execution, which they gravely guard with sabers drawn, while the red robed executioner mounts the steps, nails up the decree of the court and after a moment takes it down again.

But the condemned man might more mercifully have perished by the ax or rope. He is placed in a dungeon so constructed that from the moment he enters it he will never hear the sound of human voices nor see a living being. His food is passed through a sliding panel in the door of his cell.

Not one of these prisoners has been able to survive this confinement more than three years. The authorities have striven in vain to prolong their lives by varying their food as much as possible, but those who are moderately or lightly nourished gradually waste away, while those who are generously fed go mad and die raving maniacs.—New York World.

HER STRANGE PRISON.

Where a Cincinnati Man Found His Wife After a Burglary.

The construction of city flats is such that it seems as if flat thieves ought to be able to obtain almost unlimited plunder with impunity. But they are forever getting caught, and most of them are the lowest grades of sneak thieves.

Anything like originality in their methods is rare, so the experience of the head of a modest west side flat is remarkable. He arrived home from business about 6 'clock and at once observed indications that something unusual had been going on.

It was evident that a thief had been around, and that he had gone away without taking much, if anything, with him unless it was the resident's wife, for she was nowhere to be found. The husband presumed that she had gone to notify the police, so he sat down and waited, but after an hour or two he became anxious and inquired of the neighbors.

They had heard or seen nothing either of thief or wife. Then there was trouble. The husband hurried to the nearest police station. His wife hadn't been there, and a general alarm was sent out for patrolmen to watch for her, while two detectives returned to the house and helped push inquiries.

The kitchen and dining room looked as if the wife had been interrupted in her work, but there was no other sign of her. The detectives looked very wise, asked many questions that seemed impudent to the distracted husband, made some notes and went away.

The husband was in a bad state of mind, but not so upset that he didn't presently realize that he needed food. Rather than go to a restaurant he went to his refrigerator to see what there might be to eat. He opened the door, and there, curled up in the ice chamber, was his wife. She wasn't hurt. She hadn't even fainted.

She was simply asleep, somewhat stupefied with the close air and cramped in every joint, but otherwise in good condition and glad to get out. She explained that she caught a thief at work, and that he clapped her into the refrigerator before she could scream. Once in she could do nothing. There was no inner handle to the door. She cried aloud, and finding no response just waited to be discovered, dreading all the while that her wedding spoons had been taken. They were not, though. They had been placed, with other valuables, in the center of the dining room table for carrying off, and the incident ended happily.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Hither and Yon.

"Hither and yon," inveighed against as a Yankee importation, is simply a form of "hither and yont," a good classical Scotch expression and a most useful one, signifying "here and there and everywhere," or "all over the place." It is thus defined in Jamieson:

"Hither and yont, topsy turvy, in a state of disorder. S. yont signifies beyond, hither and yon, A. Bor., here and there. 'Noo that they're hither and yont frae ane anither it behooves a' that wish them weel to tak tent that a breach is no' opened that canna be gigit up.' (Sir A. Wylie, 2, 20.) "This, I observe, is an A.-s. phrase, hider and yeond, huc atque illuc, hither and thither (Bed. 5, 13)."

Skeat does not give it, but Halliwell, who deals with English provincial dialects, gives "hither and yon, here and there."—Notes and Queries.

Settled at Last in Our Elegant New QUARTERS, NO. 12 FIRST ST.

Such a room as we now have to display our stock of CLOTHING and FURNISHING GOODS is not to be sneezed at. Well might the Horde doing business in Dark, Gloomy Rooms be glad to have this Light, Airy Room, to display their wares.

We feel flattered that we can now say we are able to show our goods to an advantage to both ourselves and our customers. We have gained a long felt want, a light room, as from our experience everybody wants lots of light to buy clothing, and you can't get any too much.

We haven't spoken to you much about our NEW SPRING STOCK of CLOTHING AND FURNISHING GOODS, on account that we have been busily engaged in getting ready to occupy our new room, but now that everything is in Ship Shape order and in Readiness for the Trade, we speak for a Liberal Share of the Patronage from The People Who Inhabit The City of Dixon and Surrounding Country.

Our Experience has taught us THE WANTS OF THE PEOPLE and we feel safe to say that you can always GET THEM FULFILLED at our Store, and morever at PRICES not to be DUPLICATED ELSEWHERE. We Shall in the Future as in the Past be Known to you as the BIRTHPLACE for BARGAINS, as we always KEEP POSTED on the MARKETS and whenever the prices break there, Just So Quick do our Customers get this advantage.

In Conclusion we wish to thank you one and all for THE KIND FAVORS EXTENDED while in our Old Location and That you will readily see by close observation why we Have Made the Change. Kindly Soliciting a Continuance of the Liberal Patronage in the Future as in the Past.

VERY RESPECTFULLY,

The PLYMOUTH CLOTHING HOUSE,

No. 12, FIRST STREET.
